CIVIL WAR REARS ITS UGLY HEAD IN CHINA

AMERICANS TO EVACUATE ALL SHANTUNG AREA

AMERICAN LEGATION ISSUES SUCH ADVICE TO ITS PEOPLE

HALF MILLION CHINESE INVOLVED IN BATTLES NOW RAGING

Peking, China, April 20.—(U.P.)—The American legation today advised all Americans to evacuate Shantung province because of wars now occurring between various Chinese factions.

The advices from Peking today followed reports that the nationalists were on their way towards Peking, had captured the city of Yen-chowfu and that the Shantung defenses were weakening rapidly.

General Feng Yu Hsiang, the Christian general, is allied with the nationalist army and they have made steady northern advances. It is estimated that upwards of 500,000 men are involved in the battles now raging.

The Japanese government already has ordered troops into the Shantung district as a measure to protect Japanese citizens now there.

Shanghai, April 20.—Fighting on a united front for the first time in a year, the combined nationalist armies commanded by General Chiang Kai-Shek are sweeping through Shantung province in their drive on Peking, northern capital and citadel of Marshal Chang Tso-Lin.

Reports from the interior say General Chiang has annihilated the northern army of General Sun Chuan-Fang, defender of Shantung. The southern generalissimo lost prestige last year after a decisive defeat at the hands of Sun Chuan-Fang, and resigned his command on August 15 last.

Shantung is the gateway to Peking, long the goal of the southerners.

The latest information tells of a great nationalist victory in Shantung province, in which General Chiang Kai-Shek captured 20,000 soldiers, while the forces of General Feng Yu-Hsiang, "Christian general," now fighting side by side with Chiang, turned Sun Chuan-Fang's flank and captured 40,000 prisoners.

While reports that 500,000 soldiers are engaged in the fighting seem to be exaggerated, the war in China has become as intense as at any time in the last two years.

The casualties of both armies to date are 50,000, of which 3,000 northerners, including a general and three colonels and 2,500 nationalists have been killed.

Fighting is fiercest along the Tientsin-Pukow and Peking-Hankow railways. The nationalists have captured the towns of Tsining and Henchowfu in southern Shantung, and Changteh and Tamingfu on the Peking-Hankow railway.

The American legation in Peking has ordered Americans to evacuate Shantung province.

The Japanese government has taken steps to safeguard Japanese interests in the beleaguered province. Orders have been issued for the dispatch of 5,000 Japanese troops to Shantung. Some already have arrived. Several companies of troops will leave Japan tomorrow aboard the cruiser Mori, while the cruiser Kasuga left Yokosuka for Tsingtao today carrying a landing party of 200.

Washington, April 20.—American officials and military forces now in China are wholly able to cope with the situation which has arisen as a result of the renewed drive of the nationalist armies on Peking, it was declared here today. State department authorities were without information, however, as to the reported action of Minister MacMurray in advising Americans in Shantung, where the heaviest fighting is going on, to evacuate that province at once.

More than 5,500 American marines have been resting on their arms in China since the anti-foreign out-breaks of a year ago. These men now are ready to take any action necessary to protect American citizens and property.

Apart from the land forces, the United States has two score naval vessels in Chinese waters, which are manned by several thousand blue-jackets.

Eighty thousand persons are homeless.

CONCENTRATES UPON ALLEGED FAILURE OF REPUBLICAN ADMINISTRATION

CHARGES IT FAILED TO KEEP PROMISES ON AGRICULTURAL RELIEF

By H. R. GROSS

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Des Moines, Ia., April 20.—Concentrating upon the alleged failure of the republican administration to keep its promises of agriculture relief, rather than upon the prohibition question over which a bitter fight is expected, Senator Dan Steck, delivering the "keynote" address, opened the democratic state convention today.

Steck made only a vague reference to prohibition, which political observers believe will be the basis of the fight E. T. Meredith, "favorite son" candidate, will wage against Governor Al Smith's control of the delegates.

Steck was particularly bitter in his arraignment of the republican party, calling upon the voters of Iowa "to retire from power the party which has demonstrated its unfitness to serve the nation."

He said the republican party either had not the ability to protect the farmers or was indifferent to their interests.

"The record of republicanism," Steck said, "is a sordid story of debauchery, of corruption and graft. The record is blacker than the corruptions of Grant's administration, or the scandals of and following the Spanish war."

"There are four million men out of work and the farmers' dollar is worth sixty cents. New records have been set for bank failures, business failures and bankruptcies."

"Republicans have sought to macth wits with foreign diplomats and have cost the taxpayers $300,000,000," Steck said.

SEVEN MEN DROWN WHEN BOAT CAPSIZES

Savannah, Tenn., April 20.—(U.P.)—Rescue crews dragged the muddy waters of the Tennessee river here today in an effort to reclaim the bodies of seven men who were drowned when their bridge construction company work boat capsized late yesterday.

The dead were B. M. Sloop, construction superintendent; Frank Paulk, engineer; Ellis Scull, carpenter, and four negro helpers. One negro saved himself by clinging to the overturned boat. A ferryman grasped Paulk's shirt, but the garment ripped and the man was swept to his death.

APIAN RESIDENTS FILE PROTEST WITH LEAGUE OF NATIONS

San Francisco, April 20.—(U.P.)—Bearing a petition signed by 7,000 inhabitants of Apia protesting against existing governmental conditions on the island, Olaf F. Nelson, continued his journey to Geneva today to place his case before the League of Nations.

Nelson arrived here yesterday on board the Australian liner Sierra.

Inhabitants of Apia, one of the islands of the Samoan group, are demanding that they be removed from the mandate of New Zealand and placed directly under the mandate of England.

New Oil Investigation Is Expected to be Started Soon by Senate Teapot Dome Body

FORD PLANE IS TO CARRY RELIEF TO THE BREMEN

PILOTS HOPE TO MAKE MURRAY BAY, QUEBEC, IN NON-STOP TRIP

CARRY SUPPLIES TO CREW OF STRANDED TRANS-ATLANTIC PLANE

Ford Airport, Dearborn, Mich., April 20.—(U.P.)—A Ford tri-motor airplane, piloted by Floyd Bennett and Bernt Balchen, pilots for Commander Richard E. Byrd, left here at 7:15 A. M. today to carry supplies to the crew of the stranded trans-Atlantic plane Bremen at Greenly Island.

The pilots hoped to make Murray Bay, Que., without a stop. There they will load on parts for the Bremen and equip their own plane with skis for a landing on the ice-covered island.

Murray Bay, Que., April 20.—A trio of anxious flyers—one here and two at Greenly Island—waited today in the frozen north for a relief airplane from the United States that will make possible completion of the Berlin to New York flight of the Junkers trans-Atlantic airplane Bremen.

A tri-motored Ford plane piloted by Bernt Balchen and Floyd Bennett, was expected here some time this afternoon. If weather conditions remain favorable it will leave for Greenly Island Saturday with repair parts for the Bremen.

Then the disabled trans-Atlantic machine will be reconditioned and with its three daring masters—Major James Fitzmaurice, Captain Hermann Koehl and Baron Gunther Von Huenefeld—in the cabin, it will start the early part of the week, probably Tuesday or Wednesday, for New York.

Murray Bay, Que., April 20.—Already Major James Fitzmaurice is considering how he and his German companions will return to their homelands and it is even a possibility that the trio might attempt to fly back, thus conquering the Atlantic skies both eastwardly and westwardly.

Fitzmaurice discussed the air tour he, Baron Von Huenefeld and Captain Koehl wanted to make after they have been received in New York.

He was asked concerning their plans to return to Europe and whether they had ever considered a return flight. Fitzmaurice grinned and said no plans had been made. However he added:

"She was good enough to bring us over."

By CARL D. GROAT

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Montreal, Que., April 20.—If present plans carry, many American cities will have an opportunity to see the doughty Bremen, which spanned the north Atlantic from east to west.

Major James Fitzmaurice at Lake St. Agnes near Murray Bay told the United Press today that present plans call for a continental air cruise of the United States after the New York and Washington receptions. At the conclusion of the American air trip, the Bremen probably will visit Ottawa, Montreal, Quebec and Toronto.

The States' cruise will last probably two months and include nearly all the important cities in the U. S., going as far as San Francisco, according to present plans. Then, if all goes well, Fitzmaurice hinted, the Canadian cities would be visited. He also intimated that the Bremen might return to Europe as she came—piloted by Fitzmaurice, Baron Huenefeld and Captain Hermann Koehl.

"This is one of the matters that must still be discussed," Fitzmaurice said, "but the Bremen brought us across."

Whether the Bremen will make a direct non-stop trip from Greenly Island to New York, is still a matter of conjecture. Yesterday, the expedition promoters were inclined to consider a stop-over at Lake St.

UNPAVED ROADS SUFFER SEVERELY FROM SNOW, RAINS

St. Paul, April 20.—(U.P.)—Unpaved roads throughout the state have suffered severely from the snows and rains of the last two weeks, according to the weekly condition report issued by the Minnesota Highway department today.

Many routes in all parts of the state are poor and some impassable, the bulletin said. "While there are many good stretches, there are frost boils and spongy places on nearly all routes, and car owners are advised not to attempt long trips except where they have definite knowledge of road conditions," the report said.

Load restrictions are in effect on many routes, but truck owners are cautioned against driving with heavy loads on any of the unpaved routes.

MEXICO ACTIVE AGAINST REBELS AND BANDITS

SERIES OF EXECUTIONS NEAR CAPITAL CITY A PROBABILITY

12 PERSONS ARRESTED AS RESULT OF RECENT HIGHWAY HOLD-UPS

By G. F. FINE

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Mexico City, April 20.—Through-out Mexico today the federal government was reported active against rebels and bandits with a series of executions near the capital city a probability.

Twelve persons have been arrested as a result of two recent hold-ups on the Cuernavaca highway—a district that has been marked by bandit activities in the past few months—and it seemed likely 11 of those under arrest would be executed, probably today.

Among the 12 captured was a woman. It was likely she would be spared execution. Advices today indicated the 11 others would be executed, probably by hanging at the scene of the most recent hold-up on the Cuernavaca highway, a short distance away from the capital.

Reports to newspapers said that Austin Chapoy, leader of the rebel forces in the Las Palmas region in Chihuahua state, had been executed. He was arrested on a charge of sedition in connection with the religious controversy, reports said.

Ninety-seven persons, accused of sedition, now are under arrest and awaiting deportation here. Many of these are said to be Catholics. They will be taken, probably this week, to the Tres Islas Marlas penal colony. There is a possibility, it was said, that eight might be given presidential clemency.

DOLORES DEL RIO STARTS DIVORCE SUIT

Hollywood, Cal., April 20.—(U.P.)—Dolores Del Rio, star of the films, was speeding toward her native Mexico today to bring suit for divorce against Jaime Martinez Del Rio.

Agnes, but today's advices indicated they favored a direct flight, if the weather is good.

The heavy snowstorm and cold weather which gripped Canada yesterday has given way in many parts to sunshine and milder weather. This was considered a favorable omen for the Ford trip and for the Bremen's return.

Fitzmaurice is practicing American slang, and preparing for his entry into the States.

Communication with Murray Bay, never too speedy at the best, was hampered today by breaking of the telephone line to the outside world. Under stress of yesterday's storm, the telephone line went out at about 11 o'clock last night and still was out this forenoon.

DIRECTED INTO LEASES MADE BY JNO. BARTON PAYNE

LATTER WAS SECRETARY OF INTERIOR IN WILSON ADMINISTRATION

PERMITTED COMPANIES TO DRILL ON BIG SALT CREEK FIELDS OF WYOMING

By PAUL R. MALLON

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, April 20.—(U.P.)—A new oil investigation is expected to be undertaken shortly by the senate Teapot Dome committee.

It will be directed into leases made by John Barton Payne, secretary of interior in the Wilson administration, permitting oil companies to drill on the Big Salt Creek fields of Wyoming—described as the greatest oil field in the world.

The resolution authorizing such an investigation was brought before the senate audit and control committee today with prospects that it would be reported favorably to the senate early next week, and adopted without much dissension.

The chief basis for the investigation is a report of Assistant General Bell in January, 1921, charging that applications for the leases then pending in the interior department were fraudulently offered and illegal. Despite this Bell reported the leases were granted—most of them to the Midwest Refining Company, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

The investigation is expected to be extensive and may last through the summer, after the recess of congress.

Before it is launched, the committee intends to conclude its present investigation into the mysterious Continental Trading Company bonds. The United Press is reliably informed that sensational information has been uncovered by private investigators for the committee. This information, which is expected to breathe new life into the investigation, will be made public shortly.

Hearings are to be resumed by the committee next week when traces of more Continental Trading Company bonds will be disclosed.

GOV. AL SMITH ENJOYING SELF IN SOUTHLAND

Asheville, N. C., April 20.—(U.P.)—Gov. Alfred E. Smith's first vacation in Dixie went into its second week today as political leaders conceded the presence of the democratic presidential candidate in North Carolina had noticeably started a run for the Smith band wagon in the state.

Aside from politics, the vacation so far has given Smith a coat of tan, a slightly improved golf game, and an insight into southern hospitality.

BIRGER BURIED IN JEWISH CEMETERY

St. Louis, Mo., April 20.—(U.P.)—Contrary to Charley Birger's request, the body of the notorious southern Illinois gangster who was hanged at Benton, Ill., yesterday, reposed here today in the Jewish cemetery, Chesed Shel Emeth.

During the ganglord's incarceration at the Franklin county jail, he was asked by a deputy sheriff where he wished to be buried, and replied "In a Catholic cemetery; that's the last place the devil would look to find a Jew."

About 100 persons gathered at the Chesed Shel Emeth cemetery when the body was buried. Although a rabbi accompanied Birger to the gallows, none was in attendance at the final rites. Hebrew prayers were read by relatives.

Father of Peggy Hopkins Joyce Passes Away

Farmville, Va., April 20.—(U.P.)—Sam Upton, 64, father of Peggy Hopkins Joyce, movie actress, died at his home here.

TO PURGE IOWA STUDENT ELECTIONS, DOUBLE VOTING, ETC.

Iowa City, Ia., April 20.—(U.P.)—Ballot stuffing, double voting, and other "technical irregularities" in previous University of Iowa student elections, today resulted in passage of a rule which requires registration of voters one week in advance of the balloting next fall. The action was taken by the student council.

GOVERNMENT PROSECUTOR SCORES SINCLAIR

SAYS HIS DEFENSE TO TEAPOT DOME LEASE FILLED WITH 'LIES, FALSEHOODS'

ALLEGES 'SLIMY TRAIL,' 'ROLLS THAT WOULD CHOKE A MULE'

By HERBERT LITTLE

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, April 20.—Harry F. Sinclair's defense of his "slimy trail" to the Teapot Dome lease is filled with "lies and falsehoods," the Sinclair conspiracy jury was told today by Owen J. Roberts, government prosecutor.

Roberts scathingly delivered his summation argument to the jury, referring to the cash and bonds—"rolls that would choke a mule"—which passed from Sinclair to former Secretary of the Interior Fall after Fall leased Teapot Dome to Sinclair on April 7, 1922. The total amount received by Fall was $304,100.

The jury was given, as a final bit of evidence, the information offered by the government that Fall's own story deposition regarding the lease and bond and cash payments had been taken by the defense but was not presented to the jury.

Sinclair never bought a one-third interest in Fall's New Mexico ranch, Roberts said.

"Sinclair merely prepared means by which he could cover up his trail if his transactions with Fall came out."

Roberts closed after an hour and a half, asserting that it was up to the jury to say to Sinclair's lawyers: "We weren't born yesterday!"

Sinclair must be found guilty, Roberts said, not because he is a wealthy man, but because he is guilty "beyond reasonable doubt."

"Be just," Roberts told the jury. "Don't be babies. Be cold as ice-land and don't be misled by an unlikely story."

MINNESOTA'S FINAL SIEGE OF WINTER

St. Paul, April 20.—(U.P.)—Minnesota's final siege of winter will be climaxed by rain or snow with low temperatures in many sections, according to officials forecasts.

Although the rain or snow will probably not be sufficient to hamper traffic it is expected to keep farmers out of the fields for a few days longer and may add to the thousands suffering from colds and influenza. Influenza is reported in many sections of the state. In Minneapolis, 10 per cent of the public school children have been out of school with the illness but no thought has been given to closing schools.

Cold weather was reported throughout Minnesota and much of the Northwest Thursday. A sharp drop of temperature in Western Minnesota and North and South Dakota set a new record for April weather.

Highways throughout most of Minnesota were clear of snow. Traffic was hampered near Govick, Minn., by a 10-inch fall of snow on Wednesday.

WANTS POKER PARTY OF SINCLAIR AND 3 ADMIRALS PROBED

Washington, April 20.—(U.P.)—Investigation by the house naval affairs committee of a poker party three admirals had with Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, in December, 1921, was demanded by Rep. McClintic (Dem., Okla.) during a committee meeting today.

RICH PINE BELT IS PREY TO THE FLAMES

FOR A TIME FIRE THREATENED THE CITY OF BARNEGAT

1,000 FIREMEN, 150 GUARDSMEN AND 3,000 VILLAGERS CALLED OUT

Barnegat, N. J., April 20.—(U.P.)—Thirty thousand acres of woods in the central New Jersey pine belt were destroyed by a forest fire that swept through the district last night for a time threatening the city of Barnegat.

The fire finally was brought under control shortly before midnight after 1,000 firemen, 150 coast guardsmen and between 3,000 and 4,000 villagers and fishermen had fought the blaze for several hours.

So far as was known today there were no lives lost. Nine houses in Barnegat were burned.

Firemen and volunteer workers were aided by fire departments from a radius of 45 miles.

After the flames were extinguished the embers burned for many hours. A guard was kept throughout the night to prevent the fire from recurring.

Fire also was reported in the vicinity of Newton, N. J., where it was said a path almost a mile wide had been cut by the flames. Many farms were in the path of the flames.

Cooker Mountain was a mass of flame when fires started in the timberlands there and fear was expressed for the Rickers silk mill and a score of residents. This fire finally was brought under control about midnight.

Bayshore, L. I., April 20.—Twelve square miles of timber property was destroyed by fire last night and early today the blaze continued to burn.

Edgewood and Deer Park were in the path of the blaze.

Fire departments from several nearby districts were fighting the flames and many volunteers helped in the attempt to check the flames.

New York, April 20.—Losses totaling hundreds of thousands of dollars from fires and wind were reported today as a 60-mile gale blew itself out across sections of several eastern states.

Fanned by the wind, forest fires raged through Long Island, Westchester county, N. Y., and New Jersey during the night. Upwards of 75,000 acres of valuable timber was destroyed. Skies over southern New Jersey were aglow for 40 miles. One mountain was a complete mass of flames.

In New York City more than a dozen persons were injured as the high winds blew loose laths from unfinished buildings, sent up great clouds of dust which hampered traffic, and blew down signs. One section of upper Broadway was closed by more than two tons of laths blown from roofs of unfinished buildings. Many plate glass windows were broken. Several persons were struck by falling debris.

Thousands of volunteers fought forest fires in New Jersey, Westchester county and Long Island last night. A negro community at Lincoln Heights, N. J., was reported destroyed although there were no reports of casualties. Nine homes were burned at Barnegat, N. J., as a fire, that destroyed about 50,000 acres of timberland swept into the city.

Forest fires were reported in the vicinity of Newton, Pleasant Mills, Wanamassa and Midvale. An industrial mill at Kearny was damaged.

An area of 30 square miles was destroyed by forest fires in the vicinity of Bay Shore, L. I. Thirteen houses were burned.

In Washington, D. C., a fire, fanned by high wind, destroyed a lumber yard with a damage of $300,000. Ten horses were burned to death and several firemen were injured.

Forest fires burned over a wide area in Pennsylvania today. Reports to the fire marshal in Harrisburg said that sections in central, eastern and western parts of the state were burning and that several communities were threatened.

Thousands of acres of timberland have been destroyed already and many of the flames in Pennsylvania (Continued on page 4)

Twelve persons have been arrested as a result of two recent hold-ups on the Cuernavaca highway—a district that has been marked by bandit activities in the past few months—and it seemed likely 11 of those under arrest would be executed, probably today.

Among the 12 captured was a woman. It was likely she would be spared execution. Advances today indicated the 11 others would be executed, probably by hanging at the scene of the most recent hold-up on the Cuernavaca highway, a short distance away from the capital.

Reports to newspapers said that Austin Chapoy, leader of the rebel forces in the Las Palmas region in Chihuahua state, had been executed. He was arrested on a charge of sedition in connection with the religious controversy, reports said.

Ninety-seven persons, accused of sedition, now are under arrest and awaiting deportation here. Many of these are said to be Catholics. They will be taken, probably this week, to the Tres Islas Marianas penal colony. There is a possibility, it was said, that eight might be given presidential clemency.

DIRECTED INTO LEASES MADE BY JNO. BARTON PAYNE

LATTER WAS SECRETARY OF INTERIOR IN WILSON ADMINISTRATION

PERMITTED COMPANIES TO DRILL ON BIG SALT CREEK FIELDS OF WYOMING

By PAUL R. MALLON (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, April 20.—(U.P.)—A new oil investigation is expected to be undertaken shortly by the senate Teapot Dome committee.

It will be directed into leases made by John Barton Payne, secretary of interior in the Wilson administration, permitting oil companies to drill on the Big Salt Creek fields of Wyoming—described as the greatest oil field in the world.

The resolution authorizing such an investigation was brought before the senate audit and control committee today with prospects that it would be reported favorably to the senate early next week, and adopted without much dissension.

The chief basis for the investigation is a report of Assistant General Bell in January, 1921, charging that applications for the leases then pending in the interior department were fraudulently offered and illegal. Despite this Bell report the leases were granted—most of them to the Midwest Refining Company, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

The investigation is expected to be extensive and may last through the summer, after the recess of congress.

Before it is launched, the committee intends to conclude its present investigation into the mysterious Continental Trading Company bonds. The United Press is reliably informed that sensational information has been uncovered by private investigators for the committee. This information, which is expected to breathe new life into the investigation, will be made public shortly.

Hearings are to be resumed by the committee next week when traces of more Continental Trading Company bonds will be disclosed.

GOV. AL SMITH ENJOYING SELF IN SOUTHLAND

Asheville, N. C., April 20.—(U.P.)—Gov. Alfred E. Smith's first vacation in Dixie went into its second week today as political leaders conceded the presence of the democratic presidential candidate in North Carolina had noticeably started a run for the Smith band wagon in the state.

Aside from politics, the vacation so far has given Smith a coat of tan, a slightly improved golf game, and an insight into southern hospitality.

BIRGER BURIED IN JEWISH CEMETERY

St. Louis, Mo., April 20.—(U.P.)—Contrary to Charley Birger's request, the body of the notorious southern Illinois gangster who was hanged at Benton, Ill., yesterday, reposed here today in the Jewish cemetery, Chesed Shel Emeth.

During the ganglord's incarceration at the Franklin county jail, he was asked by a deputy sheriff where he wished to be buried, and replied "In a Catholic cemetery; that's the last place the devil would look to find a Jew."

About 100 persons gathered at the Chesed Shel Emeth cemetery when the body was buried. Although a rabbi accompanied Birger to the gallows, none was in attendance at the final rites. Hebrew prayers were read by relatives.

GOVERNMENT PROSECUTOR SCORES SINCLAIR

SAYS HIS DEFENSE TO TEAPOT DOME LEASE FILLED WITH 'LIES, FALSEHOODS'

ALLEGES 'SLIMY TRAIL,' 'ROLLS THAT WOULD CHOKE A MULE'

By HERBERT LITTLE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, April 20.—Harry F. Sinclair's defense of his "slimy trail" to the Teapot Dome lease is filled with "lies and falsehoods," the Sinclair conspiracy jury was told today by Owen J. Roberts, government prosecutor.

Roberts scathingly delivered his summation argument to the jury, referring to the cash and bonds—"rolls that would choke a mule"—which passed from Sinclair to former Secretary of the Interior Fall after Fall leased Teapot Dome to Sinclair on April 7, 1922. The total amount received by Fall was $304,100.

The jury was given, as a final bit of evidence, the information offered by the government that Fall's own story deposition regarding the lease and bond and cash payments had been taken by the defense but was not presented to the jury.

Sinclair never bought a one-third interest in Fall's New Mexico ranch, Roberts said.

"Sinclair merely prepared means by which he could cover up his trail if his transactions with Fall came out."

Roberts closed after an hour and a half, asserting that it was up to the jury to say to Sinclair's lawyers: "We weren't born yesterday!"

Sinclair must be found guilty, Roberts said, not because he is a wealthy man, but because he is guilty "beyond reasonable doubt."

"Be just," Roberts told the jury. "Don't be babies. Be cold as Iceland and don't be misled by an unlikely story."

MINNESOTA'S FINAL SIEGE OF WINTER

St. Paul, April 20.—(U.P.)—Minnesota's final siege of winter will be climaxed by rain or snow with low temperatures in many sections, according to officials forecasts.

Although the rain or snow will probably not be sufficient to hamper traffic it is expected to keep farmers out of the fields for a few days longer and may add to the thousands suffering from colds and influenza. Influenza is reported in many sections of the state. In Minneapolis, 10 per cent of the public school children have been out of school with the illness but no thought has been given to closing schools.

Cold weather was reported throughout Minnesota and much of the Northwest Thursday. A sharp drop of temperature in Western Minnesota and North and South Dakota set a new record for April weather.

Highways throughout most of Minnesota were clear of snow. Traffic was hampered near Gonvick, Minn., by a 19-inch fall of snow on Wednesday.

WANTS POKER PARTY OF SINCLAIR AND 3 ADMIRALS PROBED

Washington, April 20.—(U.P.)—Investigation by the house naval affairs committee of a poker party three admirals had with Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, in December, 1921, was demanded by Rep. McClintock (Dem., Okla.) during a committee meeting today.

RICH PINE BELT IS PREY TO THE FLAMES

FOR A TIME FIRE THREATENED THE CITY OF BARNEGAT

1,000 FIREMEN, 150 GUARDSMEN AND 3,000 VILLAGERS CALLED OUT

Barnegat, N. J., April 20.—(U.P.)—Thirty thousand acres of woods in the central New Jersey pine belt were destroyed by a forest fire that swept through the district last night for a time threatening the city of Barnegat.

The fire finally was brought under control shortly before midnight after 1,000 firemen, 150 coast guardsmen and between 3,000 and 4,000 villagers and fishermen had fought the blaze for several hours.

So far as was known today there were no lives lost. Nine houses in Barnegat were burned.

Firemen and volunteer workers were aided by fire departments from a radius of 45 miles.

After the flames were extinguished the embers burned for many hours. A guard was kept throughout the night to prevent the fire from recurring.

Fire also was reported in the vicinity of Newton, N. J., where it was said a path almost a mile wide had been cut by the flames. Many farms were in the path of the flames.

Cooker Mountain was a mass of flame when fires started in the timberlands there and fear was expressed for the Rickers silk mill and a score of residents. This fire finally was brought under control about midnight.

Bayshore, L. I., April 20.—Twelve square miles of timber property was destroyed by fire last night and early today the blaze continued to burn. Edgewood and Deer Park were in the path of the blaze.

Fire departments from several nearby districts were fighting the flames and many volunteers helped in the attempt to check the flames.

New York, April 20.—Losses totalling hundreds of thousands of dollars from fires and wind were reported today as a 60-mile gale blew itself out across sections of several eastern states.

Fanned by the wind, forest fires raged through Long Island, Westchester county, N. Y., and New Jersey during the night. Upwards of 75,000 acres of valuable timber was destroyed. Skies over southern New Jersey were aglow for 40 miles. One mountain was a complete mass of flames.

In New York City more than a dozen persons were injured as the high winds blew loose laths from unfinished buildings, sent up great clouds of dust which hampered traffic, and blew down signs. One section of upper Broadway was closed by more than two tons of laths blown from roofs of unfinished buildings. Many plate glass windows were broken. Several persons were struck by falling debris.

Thousands of volunteers fought forest fires in New Jersey, Westchester county and Long Island last night. A negro community at Lincoln Heights, N. J., was reported destroyed although there were no reports of casualties. Nine homes were burned at Barnegat, N. J., as a fire, that destroyed about 50,000 acres of timberland swept into the city.

Forest fires were reported in the vicinity of Newton, Pleasant Mills, Wanamassa and Midvale. An industrial mill at Kearny was damaged.

An area of 30 square miles was destroyed by forest fires in the vicinity of Bay Shore, L. I. Thirteen houses were burned.

In Washington, D. C., a fire, fanned by high wind, destroyed a lumber yard with a damage of $300,000. Ten horses were burned to death and several firemen were injured.

Forest fires burned over a wide area in Pennsylvania today. Reports to the fire marshal in Harrisburg said that sections in central, eastern and western parts of the state were burning and that several communities were threatened.

Thousands of acres of timberland have been destroyed already and many of the flames in Pennsylvania (Continued on page 4)

Know Your Sweetheart by His Handwriting

By EDNA PURDY WALSH

Editor, Character Reading Magazine.

Is He Mechanical?

What is

Mechanical ability gives an automatic appearance to the writing. Lower loops will be absent, only a short blunt line being made. Words will be connected but very often separated within themselves by syllables, showing psychic ability.

The terminal will often be brought back from the end of the word to cross the t and thus will be made a triangle that speaks of mechanical ability.

The writing of a mechanical person is seldom large. The ability to concentrate is theirs and it will be seen in smaller writing.

Anything unlike the copybook form will indicate ability to handle things in the field of mechanics. Of course, if the signs of ideality are visible and the writer has mechanical ability, he will turn it into inventive channels and come forth with something new.

The letters h and b made without loops spell mechanical ability on the part of the writer and are usually found with a short blunt t bar.

Note—Do not make final judgment until other signs in writing are studied.

Mechanical ability gives an automatic appearance to the writing. Lower loops will be absent, only a short blunt line being made. Words will be connected but very often separated within themselves by syllables, showing psychic ability.

The terminal will often be brought back from the end of the word to cross the t and thus will be made a triangle that speaks of mechanical ability.

The writing of a mechanical person is seldom large. The ability to concentrate is theirs and it will be seen in smaller writing.

Anything unlike the copybook form will indicate ability to handle things in the field of mechanics. Of course, if the signs of ideality are visible and the writer has mechanical ability, he will turn it into inventive channels and come forth with something new.

The letters h and b made without loops spell mechanical ability on the part of the writer and are usually found with a short blunt t bar.

Note.—Do not make final judgment until other signs in writing are studied. (Copyright.)

First "Usurers"

The word "usury" always leaves an unpleasant taste in the mouth, and it used to be applied generally to all lending of money at interest. Under the laws of the ancient Greeks and Romans, borrowers became virtually the slaves of lenders, and, as a result, any form of interest charging came to be regarded as a crime.

State They Know Nothing of Sale of Name to 20 Musicians Which Mr. Heath Represents

In reply to a statement given out by Basil T. Heath, attorney, representing a number of the members of the 1927 Brainerd Ladies Band, yesterday, in which he stated that the band he represented had purchased rights to the name, Brainerd Ladies Band, and had filed their name with the office of the clerk of the district court, the Dispatch was in receipt today of the following letter:

Editor Dispatch:

We, the undersigned, who comprised nineteen out of twenty-nine members of the Brainerd Ladies Band which disbanded on the 20th day of March, 1928, and who are with one exception also members of Winnifred Cronk Ziebell's present Brainerd Ladies' Band, which organized on the following day, and which numbers 22, wish to correct the impression given to the public by the statement made by Attorney Basil T. Heath in yesterday's issue of the Dispatch in regard to a reorganization under the name of the Brainerd Ladies' Band, which name was stated have been purchased from the old band.

The undersigned, who have continued as a band under the directorship of Mrs. Ziebell in the past, and do so still continue, and who represent a majority of the members of the old band, know nothing of the sale of the name of the Brainerd Ladies' Band to the twenty musicians which Mr. Heath represents and which are directed by William Knuppel.

World's Tallest Mountain

Sunday island, in the Pacific, is really the tallest mountain in the world. It rises 2,000 feet out of five miles of water, and is thus nearly 30,000 feet from base to summit.

BOY SCOUTS

What the boy hopes to be, what he reads, the people he associates with, the things he eats and drinks, the game he plays, the way he carries himself, the work he does—these are all the composite picture of himself. He shows all these things in his daily life; he shows them; and to save his life he cannot help it. Therefore it is the logical thing to provide him with a system or organization that will attract him because it is along the line of his natural interests. At the same time it helps him to become, by doing and knowing, the type of man the future wants and needs.

Have you ever noticed that a boy wants to:

1. Go somewhere.
2. Make something.
3. Collect an exhibit.
4. Have physical action.
5. Make believe.
6. Have chums and pets.
7. Own something.
8. Move in rhythm.
9. Show off.
10. Be part of the great outdoors.
11. Follow a real leader.
12. Be a man.

All those things are provided for in the Scout Program, and may be had or accomplished opportune as to time and not troublesome or offensive to others in their manner.

Do you know that of the 193 scout executives in service three years ago, 5 were ministers, 17 were teachers, 21 were boy workers in other fields, 34 were Y. M. C. A. secretaries, and 116 had been taken from various fields of business. That represents a varied field of experience; some pedagogically trained, some religiously inspired, and some with business training. Physical vitality is strongly developed in these executives; they are vigorous, masculine and virile. That is why they are so uniformly successful at their work; that is why so many of the rest of us can not succeed with boys while the executives do. Before censuring or criticizing an ex-

Preaching and Practicing

I lately spent an evening with a woman who was as gentle a creature as I have ever known. Her ideals were high; her conception of motherhood as noble as I have ever heard a woman express. Yet I knew of terrible rows she had had with her husband, children and neighbors, wherein she had said as bitter things about them all as was ever put in a degenerate book. — E. W. Howe's Monthly.

Means Condensed

"Tabloid" designates anything concise or condensed, especially a daily newspaper of small dimensions in which the news is boiled down to brief statements. The term was arbitrarily coined by a London firm of chemists, and was at first applied to a preparation of drugs in a concentrated and condensed form.

The Shoe Last

The familiar term "shoe last" is derived from an old Saxon word which means a footprint, or the shape of a foot.

Yesterday's Hero—Rogers Hornsby, who led the Boston Braves to a 9 to 8 victory over the New York Giants in ten innings. He scored the tying run in the ninth and drove home the winning run in the tenth.

Hack Wilson hit two home runs and accounted for six of the runs by which the Chicago Cubs defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 13 to 0. Joe Kelly, subbing at first base for the injured Grimm, smote four hits and drove in four runs. Sheriff Blake allowed the Reds only two hits.

A crowd of 32,000 saw the Pirates lose the opening game at Pittsburgh to the St. Louis Cardinals, 13 to 10. There were 31 hits in the game which required three hours to complete. The Pirates used seven pitchers.

Doubles by Whitney, Wilson, Lorian and Nixon and a home run by Leavh helped the Phillies score seven runs in the sixth inning off Jumbo Elliott, and beat the Brooklyn Robins, 9 to 5.

The New York Yankees lost their first game of the season to the Boston Red Sox, 7 to 6, in the morning and then started another streak in the afternoon by reversing the decision, 7 to 2. The second game was halted at the end of the sixth by rain. Babe Ruth hit his first home run of the season in the fifth inning of the afternoon game.

Willis Hudlin held the White Sox to eight hits and the Cleveland Indians beat Chicago, 9 to 2, and moved into first place in the American league. The Indians have won seven games and lost only one.

The Detroit Tigers won a weird game from the St. Louis Browns, 9 to 8. Easterling, Tiger rookie, continued his hard hitting, making three hits, including a home run in the seventh which proved the winning run. There were 18 bases on balls in the game which lasted 2 hours and 23 minutes. The Athletics and Senators were not scheduled.

At the price of ordinary gasoline

Keep a record—watch your expenses—make comparisons—see for yourself how much LESS it costs to run your car on 400 "Extra Dry" than any other gasoline that sells at the regular price.

Full mileage from every gallon. Yes—and that's only one of the many good results you may expect from this superior gasoline. Instant starting in any weather—swift getaway when the green light flashes—acceleration that thrills and exhilarates—and in addition to all this, a cleaner, sweeter-running motor with less expense for valve grinding and general overhauling.

The reason is plain—Shell Gasoline is refined by a revolutionary process that takes only the most volatile elements from the crude. It is extra dry, which means it is ALL gasoline. Every drop vaporizes—every particle is converted into power—there are no impurities or greasy particles to clog up the spark plugs, pass the pistons unburned and dilute the oil in the crankcase.

Treat your car to this better gasoline. You will find it on sale at all Shell yellow-red service stations and Shell Dealers at the regular price—not one cent extra for its extra quality, or the extra service it will give you.

THE NEED OF ADVERTISING

GONE are the days when all a firm had to do was insert a small card in a newspaper and let this bare announcement suffice as an advertisement. People nowadays want live shopping news as much as they want news of other happenings. The Anoka Herald calls attention to it in an editorial headed "Shoppers' Wants."

The Fayetteville, Texas, News says: "I don't have to advertise because everybody knows who I am, where I am, and what I sell," will never make much more than a living.

The average shopper does not care who a merchant is, where he is, or what he sells.

But the average shopper does care about information as to the cost of what he wants and where to get it without wasting time and stops going from store to store looking for it.

The Breckenridge Gazette-Telegram says:

We are living in the midst of a floating population and the fact that we have been permanently located here for many years means nothing to the man who comes here a stranger to make his home. When he is on the market for something he wants to know where to get it and how much it is going to cost him. He also wants to know what it looks like and what the quality will be.

In the course of a year there are perhaps fifty or seventy-five families that change locations in the county or who move in from other points. They buy from the business house that makes them welcome and that sends them invitations in the form of advertising that indicates that they have something good to offer the buyer. They tell the customer what they have, what it looks like, what the materials are and what the article will cost the buyer.

That is an invitation that takes the notice of people who are on the market for merchandise of every kind. They no longer have to go to a place of business to learn what they can do in the line of merchandising. Advertising is the magnet that brings them in.

BUILDING UP OUR PAYROLLS

It takes constant and persistent effort on the part of the Chamber of Commerce and all citizens of Brainerd to build up our payrolls. The material wealth of a city is measured by its payrolls and the prosperity of its surrounding territory, be it mining, dairying, agriculture, etc.

The city of Brainerd regards with favor its first establishment secured this year and now operating most successfully. The Hickerson and Company garment factory started with 20 employees and may shortly expand to 30. Orders are flowing in, and the company is assured of uninterrupted operation for over a year, based on present orders accumulating. The product finds a ready sale, the garments are well made and speak for themselves. The first dividend on preferred stock was paid this month of April. The next dividend is due in October.

The boat factory has been located in the former old power house on the east end of Front street. Orders are being received, one of the first being a speed boat to be built for Benson Brothers of Brainerd. As business increases and the lake season gets well under way there will be a flood of orders for all kinds of boats.

John H. Krekelberg, chairman of the manufacturing committee of the Chamber of Commerce, is not letting his interest and attention lag. In company with his committee members and officers and directors of the Chamber led by President R. E. Wyett every lead looking to a new industry is carefully followed. There is no dead timber on the committee. Anything referred to it is investigated, passed on and weighed in the interest of the community.

STRANGLING MINING

THE Ely Miner says that out of about 182 mines in the county of St. Louis, only about 70 are in operation. The tonnage, or occupational tax, is responsible for the large part of this inactivity.

When the Babbitt plant, which has invested a matter of $3,000,000 to benefit low-grade ores, is forced to close because they were losing something like 15 to 20 cents per ton after paying the tonnage tax, ad valorem tax, royalty tax, and one or two other taxes, it stands to reason that it is being taxed to death.

The same condition as on the Mesaba would prevail on the Cuyuna iron range, in the dwindling of mining operations, were it not for the production and marketing of the manganiferous ores of our Cuyuna range. Taxation, however, is a matter that strikes deeply at every mining range and there should be an easing of the burden if the industry is to be put in shape to compete with freight rates, cheaper labor, accessibility, etc., of the southern competitors such as the Birmingham fields and others.

NEW ROADS WHILE YOU WAIT

THE New York Evening Post says that sensational doings in the air have not dispensed with the need for well-built highways on terra firma.

How we have advanced in the last few years in the speed at which these highways can be built is shown by the statement that in 1910 an entire month was frequently required for building a single mile of concrete highway, while today the trained builder, armed with mammoth paving mixers that turn out a cubic yard of fresh concrete every minute or so, can lay a concrete ribbon 1,500 feet long in eight or ten hours. In less than four days, that is, he can accomplish what a few years ago it took a month to achieve. It is reassuring to know that no matter how rapidly automobiles are made there are machines which can manufacture good roads fast enough to keep up with them.

WEST WILL BE REPUBLICAN

TALK of bolting the republican nominee for president if an eastern man is named, says the Iroquois, S. D. Chief, is based on a flimsy foundation and is no more likely to happen than that eastern republicans will vote the democratic ticket, if a western candidate is selected.

Western republicans know that a democratic administration not only will not help them, but will make matters worse, and they have the history of past democratic administrations as a warning against such action.

While the agricultural west favors a western man, it knows that it will get better treatment from a Hoover, for instance, than it will from an Al Smith man.

THE NEED OF ADVERTISING

GONE are the days when all a firm had to do was insert a small card in a newspaper and let this bare announcement suffice as an advertisement. People nowadays want live shopping news as much as they want news of other happenings. The Anoka Herald calls attention to it in an editorial headed "Shoppers' Wants."

The Fayetteville, Texas, News says: "I don't have to advertise because everybody knows who I am, where I am, and what I sell," will never make much more than a living.

The average shopper does not care who a merchant is, where he is, or what he sells.

But the average shopper does care about information as to the cost of what he wants and where to get it without wasting time and stops going from store to store looking for it.

The Breckenridge Gazette-Telegram says:

We are living in the midst of a floating population and the fact that we have been permanently located here for many years means nothing to the man who comes here a stranger to make his home. When he is on the market for something he wants to know where to get it and how much it is going to cost him. He also wants to know what it looks like and what the quality will be.

In the course of a year there are perhaps fifty or seventy-five families that change locations in the county or who move in from other points. They buy from the business house that makes them welcome and that sends them invitations in the form of advertising that indicates that they have something good to offer the buyer. They tell the customer what they have, what it looks like, what the materials are and what the article will cost the buyer.

That is an invitation that takes the notice of people who are on the market for merchandise of every kind. They no longer have to go to a place of business to learn what they can do in the line of merchandising. Advertising is the magnet that brings them in.

BUILDING UP OUR PAYROLLS

It takes constant and persistent effort on the part of the Chamber of Commerce and all citizens of Brainerd to build up our payroll. The material wealth of a city is measured by its payroll and the prosperity of its surrounding territory, be it mining, dairying, agriculture, etc.

The city of Brainerd regards with favor its first establishment secured this year and now operating most successfully. The Hickerson and Company garment factory started with 20 employees and may shortly expand to 30. Orders are flowing in, and the company is assured of uninterrupted operation for over a year, based on present orders accumulating. The product finds a ready sale, the garments are well made and speak for themselves. The first dividend on preferred stock was paid this month of April. The next dividend is due in October.

The boat factory has been located in the former old power house on the east end of Front street. Orders are being received, one of the first being a speed boat to be built for Benson Brothers of Brainerd. As business increases and the lake season gets well under way there will be a flood of orders for all kinds of boats.

John H. Krekelberg, chairman of the manufacturing committee of the Chamber of Commerce, is not letting his interest and attention lag. In company with his committee members and officers and directors of the Chamber led by President R. E. Wyatt every lead looking to a new industry is carefully followed. There is no dead timber on the committee. Anything referred to it is investigated, passed on and weighed in the interest of the community.

STRANGLING MINING

The Ely Miner says that out of about 182 mines in the county of St. Louis, only about 70 are in operation. The tonnage, or occupational tax, is responsible for the large part of this inactivity.

When the Babbitt plant, which has invested a matter of $3,000,000 to benefit low-grade ores, is forced to close because they were losing something like 15 to 20 cents per ton after paying the tonnage tax, ad valorem tax, royalty tax, and one or two other taxes, it stands to reason that it is being taxed to death.

The same condition as on the Mesaba would prevail on the Cuyuna iron range, in the dwindling of mining operations, were it not for the production and marketing of the manganiferous ores of our Cuyuna range. Taxation, however, is a matter that strikes deeply at every mining range and there should be an easing of the burden if the industry is to be put in shape to compete with freight rates, cheaper labor, accessibility, etc., of the southern competitors such as the Birmingham fields and others.

NEW ROADS WHILE YOU WAIT

The New York Evening Post says that sensational doings in the air have not dispensed with the need for well-built highways on terra firma.

How we have advanced in the last few years in the speed at which these highways can be built is shown by the statement that in 1910 an entire month was frequently required for building a single mile of concrete highway, while today the trained builder, armed with mammoth paving mixers that turn out a cubic yard of fresh concrete every minute or so, can lay a concrete ribbon 1,500 feet long in eight or ten hours. In less than four days, that is, he can accomplish what a few years ago it took a month to achieve. It is reassuring to know that no matter how rapidly automobiles are made there are machines which can manufacture good roads fast enough to keep up with them.

WEST WILL BE REPUBLICAN

TALK of bolting the republican nominee for president if an eastern man is named, says the Iroquois, S. D. Chief, is based on a flimsy foundation and is no more likely to happen than that eastern republicans will vote the democratic ticket, if a western candidate is selected.

Western republicans know that a democratic administration not only will not help them, but will make matters worse, and they have the history of past democratic administrations as a warning against such action.

While the agricultural west favors a western man, it knows that it will get better treatment from a Hoover, for instance, than it will from an Al Smith man.

GENE TUNNEY TO START TRAINING FOR HEENEY BOUT

CHAMPION AND CAMP MATES ARE LEAVING FLORIDA

TRAINING CAMP TO BE ESTABLISHED AT SPECULATOR, N. Y.

TUNNEY AND TEX RICKARD CONFERENCE REGARDING THE FIGHT DETAILS

Miami Beach, Fla., April 20.—(UP)—Gene Tunney's vacation in Florida neared its end today and before the heavyweight champion lay a long training grind at Speculator, N. Y., and the July bout with Tom Heenev.

Tunney and his camp mates planned to leave here tonight, going direct to New York. Present plans call for a conference between Tunney and Tex Rickard on bout details there. The boxer will then go to his camp at Speculator.

Lou Fink, his trainer, today commented on the champion's condition. "He is a little too fine. I could shoot him into the ring tomorrow against anybody. What he needs now is a layoff until a month or so before the Heenev fight."

"He'll probably loll around Speculator for a while, playing golf and reading. Then we'll start the final drive. Too much heavy work would cut down his weight, and he's too near his fighting weight right now."

Tunney has spent the winter months here following a light training routine of shadow boxing and bag punching daily, spending the remainder of his time swimming, golfing and fishing. He is brown as a berry from the winter south.

The wisdom of a number of the winter baseball trades has been brought into question by the results of early season games in both major leagues.

The Chicago Cubs, for instance, traded away the makings of an infield in little "Sparky" Adams to get "Kiki" Cuyler from the Pittsburgh Pirates. Adams has been missed since the opening game. Freddy Maguire and Elwood English began to toss away ball games before the echo of the opening anthem of the season had died away.

Joe McCarthy still insists the Cubs can get along without Adams and undoubtedly Cuyler is a great help in view of Hack Wilson's unfortunate accident on the opening day of the season. But few ball clubs within the memories of the oldest fan have won pennants with a weak keystone combination, to say nothing of a hole at third base.

The New York Giants sent up a cheer when little Andy Cohen pulled a Horatio Alger and Shanty Hogan did a Frank Merriwell on opening day. This pair, elected to replace Rogers Hornsby, more than did so in the first game, but the "Rajah" is beginning to get his own back and to prove his value to the Boston Braves.

George Moriarty traded O'Rourke to the Browns in 1927 and sent Manush and Blue to join him last winter. When the supposedly easy Browns arrived in Detroit for the opening series this year, these three players led an attack which provided Mr. Moriarty with one of his most serious disappointments.

It had been expected that Detroit would waltz into the lead in the American League race by virtue of victories over the weaker clubs, but the Tigers found themselves flat on their backs and fighting for a victory or two last week.

The Pirates did not get away any too well this season, striking a snag at St. Louis. Bill McKechnie apparently was favored by fortune when his cripplings, except for Ray Blades, reported fit for the first series.

One of the bright spots of the start of the 1928 season was the performance of old Grover Cleveland Alexander against the National League champions. "Old Pete," who confesses to 41 years of age, and may have known several more, had the honor of pitching the season's first shut-out. He was not selected for the opening game, which turned out to be a slug-fest, but the following day Alexander held the Pirates to seven scattered hits, shutting them out.

Because of extreme cold and rain in the East, the two races got under way rather haltingly, one of the unusual features being that for the first three days not a single home team in the American League succeeded in winning a game.

The attitude of a manager towards his players is sometimes more important in baseball than the attitude of the players towards their manager. John J. McGraw is one manager who is out to help his team in every way that he can. McGraw feels that he has a young and rather experimental club this season. Accordingly he broke a seven-year custom and appeared in uniform for the opening series, despite the bitter cold which prevailed at the Polo Grounds.

The presence of McGraw in uniform alongside them could not help but stimulate the youngsters more than his aloof gaze from the distance of civilian attire.

OFFICIALS AGREE ON MAY 12; LITTLE FALLS GETS MEET

LOCAL TRACK MEN HANDICAPPED BY WEATHER IN ABSENCE OF INDOOR TRACK

PENTATHLON IS PLANNED BY COACH WARREN J. KASCH FOLLOWING MEET

With snow covering the ground and the weather equal to many days in the winter, district high school officials went ahead today with plans for the staging of the district track meet at Little Falls on May 12.

This early date will prove a decided handicap to the Brainerd boys. In the first place Coach Kasch has had very little opportunity to bring his men around into shape by outdoor practice on account of the cold weather and with no indoor facilities to aid them, due to the destruction of the old school by fire, the boys will enter the meet at Little Falls handicapped more than any school in the district. Brainerd high school track men are not "kicking" on the circumstances over which they have no control but feel that their big chances at coping major events at the Little Falls meet this season will be seriously affected.

With the district track meet over Coach Kasch will concentrate on a pentathlon to feature a new line of spring athletics for Brainerd high school students. Five events will be scheduled for this meet, the date of which has not been decided upon yet. The events will include: 100 yard dash, shot putt, half a mile, high jump and broad jump.

The winners of these will be considered the school's outstanding track event men. Medals will be awarded for first and second places in the pentathlon which will be decided on the point basis.

Every athlete in the school will be given an equal chance to compete for honors in these events. Practice will start immediately with the arrival of favorable weather at the Gregory Park grounds.

As a medium to keep the boys in shape this spring Coach Kasch suggests that as many boys as possible join Johnny Beck's class for wrestlers at the Y. M. C. A.

Wrestling is a particular boon to football as it keeps the hands and brain active as well as developing the necessary muscles used for gridiron work, said Coach Kasch today.

BOTH SIDES PREPARED FOR FINISH FIGHT

LEGAL BATTLE BETWEEN JACK KEARNS AND DEMPSEY GETS UNDER WAY

JURY SELECTED IN LESS THAN 30 MINUTES LATE YESTERDAY

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, April 20.—With both sides prepared for a fight to the finish, the legal battle between Jack Kearns and Jack Dempsey actually got under way in Federal Judge John C. Knox's courtroom here today.

The jury was selected in less than thirty minutes late yesterday and everything was made ready for the opening of the trial at 10:30 A. M. today.

In his charge to the jury, Judge Knox said: "This case is to be tried fairly, cleanly and without prejudice to either side." Before the jury was impaneled Judge Knox made certain that none of the prospective jurors held a grudge against either of the participants because of the large amount of money they had made out of the prize-fighting business.

Two members of the first panel were rejected by Kearns' counsel, one on the ground that he had seen Jack Dempsey fight and the other on the ground that his brokerage firm owned 500 shares in Madison Square Garden. Their successors were satisfactory.

The jury is composed of an insurance claim adjuster, an importer of baskets, a contractor, a salesman, a gas man, a motor truck salesman, a real estate agent, a merchant, a lumber man, a jeweler, a soap manufacturer and factory superintendent.

The opposing counsels estimated that the trial would require about four days. Both sides have made it clear that they will make every effort to reach a decision this time.

Kearns is suing for $701,026.60, basing his action on a contract he is said to have held as Dempsey's manager and governing the latter's services from August, 1923, to August, 1926. Kearns hopes to collect his one-third from the Wills fight which never took place and also from the first Dempsey-Tunney fight.

The first half-day of court yesterday failed to produce anything in the nature of excitement. Most of the afternoon was spent in waiting for Judge Knox to appear. He was occupied with another case and did not arrive until 4:30.

Restless and ill at ease in a courtroom chair, Dempsey spent his time chatting with Tex Rickard, Jerry the Greek, Floyd Fitzsimmons and several newspaper men. Dempsey chewed gum all afternoon.

Kearns occupied himself with his counsel and appeared more interested in the proceedings than Dempsey. Several times Kearns offered suggestions to Arthur Sagar, his chief counsel.

These inseparable pals of a few years back, sat within ten feet of each other but neither looked at the other until Kearns walked to a window to stretch while waiting for Judge Knox to appear. Then, he was in a position to look right at Dempsey.

DARK HORSES WIN LAP HONORS FROM FAVORITES

ANDREW PAYNE AGAIN LEADS PYLE CROSS-COUNTRY RUNNERS

LEAVE JOPLIN, MO., FOR 35-MILE JAUNT TO MILLER, TO THE EAST

By JAMES POWERS

(United Press Special Correspondent)

Joplin, Mo., April 20.—After a day of upsets, in which dark horses took lap honors away from the favorites, Andrew Payne, Oklahoma youth, again led the Pyle cross-country runners today as they left Joplin for Miller, 35 miles east.

Payne, although finishing in a tie for seventh place yesterday, substantially increased his elapsed time over Peter Gavuzzi of Southampton, Eng., who finished 21st.

The lap was won by John Gober, Moberly, Mo., who covered the 40 miles from Joplin, Mo., in 5:35:51. Samuel Richman of New York, who had been running in 62nd place, was second in 6:00:35, and Harry Rea, Long Beach, Cal., third in 6:08:28.

William Kerr, Minneapolis, is 6th among the leaders.

Famous as Botanists

Among the ancient Aristotele, the Greek philosopher; Theophrastus, the Roman naturalist; Pliny the elder, and the Greek physician, Dioscorides, left botanical records of historical interest, but botany as a modern science has developed in the last four centuries, dating from the Reformation. In 1583 Casalpino, an Italian physician, published the first formal and comprehensive classification of plants.

GENE TUNNEY TO START TRAINING FOR HEENEY BOUT

CHAMPION AND CAMP MATES ARE LEAVING FLORIDA

TRAINING CAMP TO BE ESTABLISHED AT SPECULATOR, N. Y.

TUNNEY AND TEX RICKARD CONFER REGARDING THE FIGHT DETAILS

Miami Beach, Fla., April 20.—(U.P.)—Gene Tunney's vacation in Florida neared its end today and before the heavyweight champion lay a long training grind at Speculator, N. Y., and the July bout with Tom Heenev. Tunney and his camp mates planned to leave here tonight, going direct to New York. Present plans call for a conference between Tunney and Tex Rickard on bout details there. The boxer will then go to his camp at Speculator.

Lou Fink, his trainer, today commented on the champion's condition. "He is a little too fine. I could shoot him into the ring tomorrow against anybody. What he needs now is a layoff until a month or so before the Heenev fight."

"He'll probably loll around Speculator for a while, playing golf and reading. Then we'll start the final drive. Too much heavy work would cut down his weight, and he's too near his fighting weight right now." Tunney has spent the winter months here following a light training routine of shadow boxing and bag punching daily, spending the remainder of his time swimming, golfing and fishing. He is brown as a berry from the winter south.

Kearns is suing for $701,026.00, basing his action on a contract he is said to have held as Dempsey's manager and governing the latter's services from August, 1923, to August, 1926. Kearns hopes to collect his one-third from the Wills fight which never took place and also from the first Dempsey-Tunney fight.

The first half-day of court yesterday failed to produce anything in the nature of excitement. Most of the afternoon was spent in waiting for Judge Knox to appear. He was occupied with another case and did not arrive until 4:30.

Restless and ill at ease in a courtroom chair, Dempsey spent his time chatting with Tex Rickard, Jerry the Greek, Floyd Fitzsimmons and several newspaper men. Dempsey chewed gum all afternoon.

Kearns occupied himself with his counsel and appeared more interested in the proceedings than Dempsey. Several times Kearns offered suggestions to Arthur Sagar, his chief counsel.

These inseparable pals of a few years back, sat within ten feet of each other but neither looked at the other until Kearns walked to a window to stretch while waiting for Judge Knox to appear. Then, he was in a position to look right at Dempsey.

ANDREW PAYNE AGAIN LEADS PYLE CROSS-COUNTRY RUNNERS

LEAVE JOPLIN, MO., FOR 35-MILE JAUNT TO MILLER, TO THE EAST

By JAMES POWERS
(United Press Special Correspondent)

Joplin, Mo., April 20.—After a day of upsets, in which dark horses took lap honors away from the favorites, Andrew Payne, Oklahoma youth, again led the Pyle cross-country runners today as they left Joplin for Miller, 35 miles east.

Payne, although finishing in a tie for seventh place yesterday, substantially increased his elapsed time over Peter Gavuzzi of Southampton, Eng., who finished 21st.

The lap was won by John Gober, Moberly, Mo., who covered the 40 miles from Miami, Okla., in 5:35:51. Samuel Richman of New York, who had been running in 62nd place, was second in 6:00:35, and Harry Rea, Long Beach, Cal., third in 6:08:28.

William Kerr, Minneapolis, is 6th among the leaders.

Famous as Botanists

Among the ancients Aristotle, the Greek philosopher; Theophrastus, the Roman naturalist; Phiny the elder, and the Greek physician, Dioscorides, left botanical records of historical interest, but botany as a modern science has developed in the last four centuries, dating from the Reformation. In 1583 Cesalpino, an Italian physician, published the first formal and comprehensive classification of plants.

The woman who cut corners
with health

FOR a long time she had gotten by. Living on shoe-string energy. Cutting corners with health. But now she was paying. Enthusiasm, fun, play—they were almost total strangers. Now, the least little thing tired her completely out.

What a tragedy that so many people let constipation go on neglected, doing its deadly work. Constipation saps vital strength. Thieves youth. Mars beauty. And it frequently leads to serious disease in the end.

And the pity is that it is so easy to relieve. So simple to prevent. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to bring prompt relief. Pleasant, safe prevention!

ALL-BRAN is effective and natural

Bulk or roughage relieves constipation in a natural way. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes bulk in generous quantity because it is 100% bran. It carries moisture throughout the intestines—gently exercising them, sweeping out poisonous wastes. Part-bran products seldom contain sufficient bulk to be completely effective. Doctors recommend ALL-BRAN. Because it is 100% bran.

So much better than harsh drugs

ALL-BRAN brings lasting relief. Far better than habit-forming pills and laxatives whose dose must be constantly increased and which are only temporarily effective. An appetizing cereal food. ALL-BRAN is delicious with milk or cream—with fruits or honey added. Use it in cookery, too. Mix it with other cereals. Sprinkle into soups. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal.

But be sure you have genuine Kellogg's. Don't take chances with part-bran substitutes. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, restaurants. On diners. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Guaranteed!

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.

DE RIDDER TRIAL STARTS TODAY

Alleged Slayer of Aitkin Special Deputy Sheriff Faces First Degree Murder Charge

TO PLEAD SELF DEFENSE

Defendant Arrested Few Weeks Ago As He Returned Home to See Wife and Family

Garett DeRidder, alleged slayer of Frank Reynolds, special deputy sheriff of Aitkin county, last Christmas day during a dispute over traps, will be tried today at the adjourned term of district court at Aitkin.

DeRidder is represented by Donald Ryan, Brainerd attorney of the law firm of Ryan, Ryan and Ryan.

An indictment charging first degree murder was returned Tuesday by a special Aitkin county grand jury. DeRidder has indicated that he will plead self defense. Judge B. F. Wright, Park Rapids, will preside.

The defendant was arrested in the attic of his home a few weeks ago after he had been a fugitive from justice since the day of the alleged killing. It was reported that he had been in hiding in lumber camps near the Canadian border and that he returned to Aitkin to see his wife and family once more before escaping to Canada. It was on his return trip that sheriff's forces arrested him at his home.

Earl C. Vandusen, superintendent of Little Falls schools, during a business visit to Brainerd yesterday placed a number of copies of the Little Falls high school Lindbergh edition with the Service News Agency for sale in Brainerd.

He reported that already 2,000 copies of the life story of the great aviator had been sold and that it was expected that the number would rise to 5,000 copies.

Proceeds from the sale of the booklet will be turned into a fund established for the purpose of erecting a permanent memorial to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh at the Little Falls high school where the U. S. Peace Ambassador was a student during his high school days.

SHORT COURSE AS LAMP ADJUSTERS

A short course for persons who are seeking appointment from the Minnesota Highway department as automobile lamp adjusters will be held at Dunwoody Institute, Minneapolis, April 23 and 24. Applicants for appointment as lamp-adjusters under the provisions of the 1927 state traffic law, will not be considered until they have taken the short courses and passed the examination.

This is the third short course held at Dunwoody. Courses have also been given at Duluth and Virginia. Courses will be offered in other parts of the state whenever a sufficient number so requests, but so far there have not been enough applicants to warrant giving a course at any other point.

Only persons who have had two years practical experience in automobile work, or equivalent will be admitted. The course includes instruction in the state traffic act, and practical instruction in focusing, testing and repairing automobile head lamps.

Every garage designated as an official auto lamp testing station must employ at least one certified lamp adjuster. So far the number of adjusters is greater than the number of stations.

Joseph Lundborg Announces Intended Trip to Washington, D. C.

SEEKS DAMAGES TO LAND

Calms Overflow of Dam at Gull Lake Injured His Land

Joseph Lundborg, nursery farm operator at Cullen Lake, announced today that he contemplated a trip to Washington, D. C., soon, to bring before Congress his situation relative to dam overflowage and to present his claim for reimbursement of damages to his land, alleged to have been committed by overflow of the dam waters.

Mr. Lundborg stated that his claim for damages will be based on his contention that Congress has failed to carry out the provisions of their act in 1882 covering overflowage relative to dam structures.

"The first thing I am going to ask for if I should get a hearing in Congress is that a bill be passed authorizing Senator Walsh of Montana to assist Minnesota in dealing with the water level question in Northern Minnesota and then I shall ask for damages to my land," said Mr. Lundborg.

"There's a bit of rare news in the announcement that President Coolidge today signed the Lake of the Woods Bill," continued Mr. Lundborg. "This bill provides for the payment of damages to settlers about the Lake of the Woods shores caused by changing in the water levels resulting from the building of the dam at Kenora. There is a provision in the bill also that states when it is necessary for a Minnesota farmer to attend the federal court at Fergus Falls in settlement of his claim, his expenses shall be paid. So Washington doesn't seem to be a bad place to go to when one has water-level trouble."

DeRidder is represented by Donald Ryan, Brainerd attorney of the law firm of Ryan, Ryan and Ryan.

An indictment charging first degree murder was returned Tuesday by a special Aitkin county grand jury. DeRidder has indicated that he will plead self defense. Judge B. F. Wright, Park Rapids, will preside.

The defendant was arrested in the attic of his home a few weeks ago after he had been a fugitive from justice since the day of the alleged killing. It was reported that he had been in hiding in lumber camps near the Canadian border and that he returned to Aitkin to see his wife and family once more before escaping to Canada. It was on his return trip that sheriff's forces arrested him at his home.

From the thrilling FBO Drama starring Ralph Lewis

Danny's legs were wrapped around those of Savage and Sparky decided to risk a shot at them. Going to one side he fired twice. Both bullets tore through the flesh of Dan's leg though neither broke a bone.

That seemed to be the signal for two things. One of the gangsters knocked down by Murphy had hit his head against a pillar and as he bent over them one of the gangsters brought a revolver down on his head. The pair beneath him had moved just at that same instant causing him to shift, but the gun struck him a glancing blow that stretched him out over the other two.

Even as he dropped a steady hammering began on the door outside. A hammering that grew in intensity as the blades of axes began to appear through the timbers of the door. A hammering that grew to a frenzy as one after another the gangsters began to empty their revolvers through the door. One after another high powered cars arrived to the accompaniment of screaming brakes and soon the door began to splinter and sway.

Sparky began to bark out orders and the firing on the part of the gangsters began to be more systematic. Then the steady rattle of a machine gun added its mad note to the uproar. It was too late to save the door. The impact of Leonard saw the feasibility of the idea and motioned one of the officers to join the reporter. Before they started their climb Jimmy stole the time to turn to Dad Gillen.

"Say, Dad," he called, "keep your eye open for young Dayton. What ever happens we've got to catch that bird."

Then he darted away and with the aid of the officer commenced to clamber up the framework of the bridge. A couple of hefty patrolmen hoisted them up onto the first span and after that it was easy.

From a position over eighty feet from the ground they managed to get the gun wedged into the angle of the girder and while Jimmy steadied the weapon the patrolman peered a steady stream through the open ventilators on top of the building.

Someone inside the place started to close them, but the bullets tore through the glass and in a few minutes the gunfire in the building had stopped. Jimmy leaned down and watched the two motorcycles move slowly forward so that their guns covered the interior. Then he heard a hoarse shout that reached his ears, then a shot. On top of that came the sharp rattle from one of the police machine guns, then silence.

Jimmy started to climb down, satisfied that the war was over, when, through the fall of his eye, he caught sight of a figure sneaking out of a little window in the side of the warehouse.

While the rest of the gang had fought to the end and had either died or been captured, young Dayton had sought a safe place at the

Petals Are Used in Youthful Mode

Simple Outlines With Effective Trimmings That Lend Variety.

The midseason mode is bringing several charming examples of feminine frocks.

There are various means of expressing the femininity in clothes charmingly by bows, tucks, boleros and tiers. More striking forms of trimming are seldom used. Originality and charm are obtained by novel uses of such decorative ideas. The Paris collections are rich in detail.

Skirts and waists are trimmed with large triangles made of fine tucks to give a sunburst effect. Double boleros on plain blouses begin from shoulder yokes and tie in bows at the side front. Skirts repeat the bolero effects in tiers.

The skirt mode, by the way, is most important. Flat tiers create some of the most enchanting of the new daytime frocks. Frocks in general give a note of simplicity. A single ruffle on a straight-line skirt, which runs from the hemline to the hipline and descends in back, is also new. Both petals and tiers manage to achieve an elegant simplicity. With a severely simple blouse a skirt of several tiers—the tiers being circular and somewhat lifted to one side—creates a dress of distinction. Diagonal bands on the petal skirt, too, lend a note of the unusual.

Loretta Young, featured motion picture player, appearing in "Her Wild Oats," wears a dress of charming simplicity and youthfulness that expresses much of the mode. It is of cornflower-blue satin. Petals are used to form the attractive collar while two rows of petals relieve the severity of the skirt. The dress is a delightful example of the youthful mode that is also smart with interesting detail.

Spring Hats of Straw to Have Trim of Velvet

Paris milliners who decide what shall be worn at Easter, recently presented some spring models of straw which have attracted attention.

Combination of velvet and straw is the surprise of these spring hats, which are worn on the Riviera, at Palm Beach and winter resorts where summer clothes are in order.

Camille Roger shows some pretty models which combine velvet and straw. Some of them follow the winter line of felt hats and are cut up in front to disclose one eye only. Molyneux shows fairly large hats of straw and velvet, with the velours used in flat bands around the brim and repeated in a band and bow.

Jane Blandchot is showing a great deal of navy blue in her new spring models. The hat which Mistinguett, the music hall artist, wore at a millinery competition recently was made of dark blue grosgrain ribbon in a cap shape fitted closely to the sides of the face covering the ears. On one side was a large white velvet flower fixed so that it fell against Mistinguett's cheek.

Leather Coats Offered for Every Hour of Day

Paris visitors declare leather coats now are offered for every hour of the day. The simple leather coat of other days is still seen but it is usually worn only for motoring. For other purposes, various leathers now are worked as cloth has been. Many are ornamented with fur. In other models, wide areas of leather are overlaid with the new ombre mode in geometric designs. Calfskin in the warm tones of brown, however, is perhaps the popular favorite of the Parisienne.

Danny's legs were wrapped around those of Savage and Sparky decided to risk a shot at them. Going to one side he fired twice. Both bullets tore through the flesh of Dan's leg though neither broke a bone.

That seemed to be the signal for two things. One of the gangsters knocked down by Murphy had hit his head against a pillar and was dead to the world. His automatic was in his hand and no one seemed to be paying any attention to anything but the fight raging on the floor.

With the report of Sparky's pistol Dick made a dive for the gun and rushed towards the pair struggling in front of him. He dare not risk a shot from any distance and as he bent over them one of the gangsters brought a revolver down on his head. The pair beneath him had moved just at the same instant causing him to shift, but the gun struck him a glancing blow that stretched him out over the other two.

Even as he dropped a steady hammering began on the door outside. A hammering that grew in intensity as the blades of axes began to appear through the timbers of the door. A hammering that grew to a frenzy as one after another the gangsters began to empty their revolvers through the door. One after another high powered cars arrived to the accompaniment of screaming brakes and on the door began to splinter and away.

Sparky began to bark out orders and the firing on the part of the gangsters began to be more systematic. Then the steady rattle of a machine gun added its mad note to the uproar. It was too late to save the door. The impact of when they glance off the walls inside.

Leonard saw the feasibility of the idea and motioned one of the officers to join the reporter. Before they started their climb Jimmy stole the time to turn to Dad Gillen.

"Say, Dad," he called, "keep your eye open for young Dayton. Whatever happens we've got to catch that bird."

Then he darted away and with the aid of the officer commenced to clamber up the framework of the bridge. A couple of hefty patrolmen hoisted them up onto the first span and after that it was easy.

From a position over eighty feet from the ground they managed to get the gun wedged into the angle of the girder and while Jimmy steadied the weapon the patrolman poured a steady stream through the open ventilators on top of the building.

Someone inside the place started to close them, but the bullets tore through the glass and in a few minutes the gunfire in the building had stopped. Jimmy leaned down and watched the two motorcycles move slowly forward so that their guns covered the interior. Then he heard a hoarse shout that reached his ears, then a shot. On top of that came the sharp rattle from one of the police machine guns, then silence.

Jimmy started to climb down, satisfied that the war was over, when, through the tail of his eye, he caught sight of a figure sneaking out of a little window in the side of the warehouse.

While the rest of the gang had fought to the end and had either died or been captured, young Dayton had sought a safe place at the

the first stream of bullets was enough and two boards fell away. A police grenade exploded a moment later, and nothing remained but a few splinters. All this time Danny had been fighting the grip that tore at his throat. A grip that was slowly choking the breath out of him. Then there was a flash in front of his eyes. . . then nothing.

Gillen's apartment was the quietest place in New York while the three inmates were waiting the call that would tell them whether there was a chance to clear up the question of doubt that was stifling their happiness. When the phone finally rang Jimmy Wells was waiting to receive it.

"Come on, Dad," he yelled, "there's a chance for you here. You can watch Dayton."

Dad grabbed his old helmet and the shiny nightstick that had been lying on the table and with a hurried goodbye to Mary they rushed down stairs and scrambled into Wells' coupe.

The first carload of police were already there, and as Jimmy's panting vehicle drew to a wheezing stop a huge Packard roared up alongside.

Mayor Williams, Commissioner Leonard and Alfred Dayton, Sr., intended to be in on the last act of the drama. Close behind this car came two other police vehicles. Crammed with men and escorted by two of the motorcycle patrol.

These men took advantage of every shelter available and commenced to pour a withering fire into the garage. A wind from the river prevented the use of gas bombs but the steady fire from the machine guns soon quieted the answering fire from the warehouse.

At the command of the inspector in charge, a score of policemen rushed towards the doors of the shed. Hardly were they inside than the sharp staccato of the bandit's automatic guns chopped half of them down in their tracks. The rest broke and ran, coming back to Leonard with the news that at least four of the bandits had been killed as their bodies were lying near the entrance.

It was Jimmy Wells who suggested the idea that turned the scale in favor of the police. Almost overhead the huge span of the bridge rose over the building. The lattice work of the girders gave Jimmy his idea.

"Say, chief," he called, "tell one of your men to come with me and we'll get a machine gun up on those girders. We can shoot down through that long ventilator and the bullets will raise merry hell beginning of the fight. The little closet in the side of the building had been the only refuge, and now it looked like he might make his getaway.

Jimmy saw him sneak down the side of the building and across the street, but as he did so another figure detached itself from the shadows of the wall. It was Dad Gillen, his nightstick swinging from his wrist, his helmet on the back of his head.

When Dayton saw that his only opponent was an old man he pushed forward. Dad might be old, but he still remembered how to swing his hickory. The stick glided in between Dayton's outstretched arms and cracked against his skull. Dayton went down in a heap and Dad caught him by the collar and dragged him over to the Commissioner's car.

As far as Leonard was concerned this was the final break. With Dayton a proved accomplice his case could not be stronger. Even so he found himself unable to look at the broken old man who sat slumped down in the back seat of the car. Dayton, Sr., did not live a month after that fatal afternoon.

When Dayton came to, the building was full of smoke. His legs seemed heavy as if the lower part of his body was dead, but as he moved his head he saw that the weight was someone lying across his legs. When he moved two sharp stabs of fire darted through each limb, but he eventually managed to roll the body away. As it rolled, a groan came from its lips and Danny saw that it was the boy he had recognized as Dick.

His own wounds were forgotten and he crawled over and got the boy's head on his lap. The eyes opened, and though dimmed with pain, they were happy enough.

"Danny," he whispered, "I wasn't much good all my life, but I reckon I'll die decent. Sparky said he'd . . . he gasped for breath, then went on . . . 'he'd get me . . . an' I guess he did.'"

"Dick, Dick," groaned Danny, "brace up boy, you're not goin' to die. I gave up everything to find you, you can't pass out now, kid."

"It ain't no use, Danny," Dick murmured. "Sparky was watching me and he knocked me down. I guess I passed out but when I came to Bull was choking you and his gun was right near my hand. I grabbed it and let him have it, an' Sparky pumped me twice."

"Guess he thinks we're both dead. Beat it, Danny . . . the cops'll know you."

Petals Are Used in Youthful Mode

Simple Outlines With Effective Trimmings That Lend Variety.

The midseason mode is bringing several charming examples of feminine frocks.

There are various means of expressing the femininity in clothes charmingly by bows, trucks, boleros and tiers. More striking forms of trimming are seldom used. Originality and charm are obtained by novel uses of such decorative ideas. The Paris collections are rich in detail.

Skirts and waists are trimmed with large triangles made of fine tucks to give a sunburst effect. Double boleros on plain blouses begin from shoulder yokes and tie in bows at the side front. Skirts repeat the bolero effects in tiers.

The skirt mode, by the way, is most important. Flat tiers create some of the most enchanting of the new daytime frocks. Frocks in general give a note of simplicity. A single ruffle on a straight-line skirt, which runs from the hemline to the hipline and descends in back, is also new. Both petals and tiers manage to achieve an elegant simplicity. With a severely simple blouse a skirt of several tiers—the tiers being circular and somewhat lifted to one side—creates a dress of distinction. Diagonal bands on the petal skirt, too, lend a note of the unusual.

Loretta Young, featured motion picture player, appearing in "Her Wild Oats," wears a dress of charming simplicity and youthfulness that expresses much of the mode. It is of cornflower-blue satin. Petals are used to form the attractive collar while two rows of petals relieve the severity of the skirt. The dress is a delightful example of the youthful mode that is also smart with interesting detail.

Spring Hats of Straw to Have Trim of Velvet

Paris milliners who decide what shall be worn at Easter, recently presented some spring models of straw which have attracted attention.

Combination of velvet and straw is the surprise of these spring hats, which are worn on the Riviera, at Palm Beach and winter resorts where summer clothes are in order.

Camille Roger shows some pretty models which combine velvet and straw. Some of them follow the winter line of felt hats and are cut up in front to disclose one eye only. Molyneux shows fairly large hats of straw and velvet, with the velours used in flat bands around the brim and repeated in a band and bow.

Jane Blandchot is showing a great deal of navy blue in her new spring models. The hat which Mistinguett, the music hall artist, wore at a millinery competition recently was made of dark blue grosgrain ribbon in a cap shape fitted closely to the sides of the face covering the ears. On one side was a large white velvet flower fixed so that it fell against Mistinguett's cheek.

Leather Coats Offered for Every Hour of Day

Paris visitors declare leather coats now are offered for every hour of the day. The simple leather coat of other days is still seen but it is usually worn only for motoring. For other purposes, various leathers now are worked as cloth has been. Many are ornamented with fur. In other models, wide areas of leather are overlaid with the new ombre note in geometric designs. Catskin in the warm tones of brown, however, is perhaps the popular favorite of the Parisienne.

The Chewing LAXATIVE

Chew It Like Chewing Gum

A pleasure to use. Very efficient. Children love it. No taste but that of sweet mint. The most popular laxative because it's a "satisfier."
